Report on One Day State Level Seminar on Artificial Intelligence and Indian Cinema organized by IQAC, Vidyasagar College for Women in collaboration with
IQAC Prabhu Jagatbandhu College and IQAC Acharya Prafulla
Chandra College*

Date: December 18, 2023

While AI has already disrupted Hollywood with writers going on a strike, the debate around the contentious issue is not widespread in the Indian film industry which employs tens of thousands of people. Some Indian film industry creators are underplaying the threat of AI for now, while others feel it needs to be taken very seriously.

Director Shekhar Kapur's debut Indian film, Masoom (1983), followed a woman's journey towards accepting a child born out of wedlock. For the sequel to this emotional film, that delicately handled the complexities around infidelity and social diktats, Kapur decided to experiment with AI and Chat gpt tool.

Speakers discussed that in a significant technological leap, Indian filmmakers are increasingly incorporating Artificial Intelligence (AI) into the dubbing process, pushing the boundaries of cinematic storytelling. Indian films are now utilizing AI-powered dubbing to enhance audio quality, expand language reach, and streamline production. Speakers took a look at some films that are using AI to create seamless, high-quality dubbing.

Resource person Dr. Monirul Islam and Sri Ashoke Viswanathan deliberated on several issues of Artificial Intelligence being used in Indian Cinema with reference to major films in contemporary times.
